

Alec Bedricky - Senior Director, BBK Chicago

Alec has more than 32 years of service in procurement, quality and supplier development with General Motors. Alec has applied his experience in launch and readiness activities to bring on new product introductions flawlessly and on a timely basis. He has been actively involved with quality improvements and scrap reduction initiatives and has assisted OEMs with tool transfers from one facility to another without interruptions. Alec is fluent in Portuguese, Spanish, Russian and Ukrainian.

Alec is known for his ability to assist financially troubled companies. An expert in operations improvement and crisis management, he is a skilled negotiator who can resolve complex situations while delivering solutions. He has demonstrated performance in supply chain management, alliance management, turnaround operations, recruiting and team development.

As a senior operations professional at BBK, Alec has participated in numerous plant turnaround initiatives with distressed companies. He has successfully worked with clients to eliminate any potential of downtime and has focused to avoid any production interruptions during the restructuring period.

Background

- Crisis Management
- Interim Management
- Operations Management
- Performance Improvement
- Procurement and Supply
- Program Launch
- Quality Control
- Restructuring

Industry Expertise

- Agriculture
- Automotive
- Outdoor Power Equipment
- Heavy Industries - Transportation

Professional Experience

Prior to accepting a position with BBK, Alec served GM as Executive Director of Worldwide Purchasing and Order to Delivery. In this position he directed day-to-day operations while improving a bankrupt supplier's performance with GM. The focus was on manufacturing, launch execution, production control, quality, constraint management and communications. He partnered with the CEO/COO to consolidate operations, ensuring successful product launches while achieving the plant's schedule and quality requirements.

As Executive Director in Tokyo, Alec directed 17 team members from various GM global operations. He supported Isuzu's turnaround, partnering with Isuzu's Executive VPs of Engineering, Manufacturing and Purchasing Operations to form a continuous improvement team.

Prior to Tokyo, Alec served as Executive Director of Global Supplier Quality and Development. In this position he directed global supplier quality activities to ensure quality, warranty and timely product launches. As Group Director of Purchasing and Quality for GM Small Car Operations, he directed procurement and supplier quality activities with an annual purchase value of $14 billion.

Alec also held the position of Vice President, Purchasing/Supplier Quality at Saturn Corporation, where he directed procurement activities for primary materials including machinery and equipment, information technology services and marketing programs with an annual purchase budget of $7 billion.

Education and Certifications

- Bachelor of Science, Business Administration, Loyola University, Chicago